ABOUT ME

Hi, I'm Sot! I studied electrical engineering but later on, found myself falling in love with design and especially product design. I am interested in all stages of Design Thinking, while I love working closely with all other fields such as marketing, business, dev teams and pms. Currently, I'm working as a senior product designer at dSphere.io.
Managing creatives is another aspect of work that I found myself interested in a lot, having 4 years experience managing small teams.
